

THE PERILS OF PAULINE

VOLUME 28 | ISSUE 05
1261 | 13 AUGUST 2024

A warm welcome to Ann Cole, Jeff Neale and Molly Sweeney.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Another week has passed in the life of our Club and as usual there was no time for the grass to grow under our feet.

This week we had our monthly market at the Campbelltown Memorial Oval. Even the weather was on our side with a nice sunny day, unusual for August.

I would like to thank all our members and volunteers who shouldered the responsibility to ensure the market was a success.

The proceeds of the market will go to Operation Flinders, an organisation our Club has supported for some time. The mission of Operation Flinders is to create opportunities for young people facing challenges and is especially designed for those from environments with family dysfunction, drug abuse, and physical abuse to improve self-confidence and self-esteem, the ability to work in teams, and to accept responsibility.

Your support at our last market will help transform the life of a person deemed at risk with pathways to wellbeing and life success. Thank you!

We were also thrilled to discover the Club had been awarded a Rotary Citation for 2023-2024 a prestigious recognition for Rotary clubs that achieve specific goals set by Rotary International. This can only be achieved by all club members pulling together to help make a better world. Thank you to you all and to IPP Lindsay for his guidance to achieve this award.

If you would like to make a difference, we would love to have you join us. Come along to a meeting and give us a try, we will even give you a cooked breakfast to start your day. For more information call 0415 453 101.

You'll be so glad you did.

Toodles!

Pauline

GUEST SPEAKER –SUZETTE COAT

IPP Lindsay and Suzette Coat

Newly minted club member, but long-time honorary member, Suzette Coat PhD, presented (Behind the Badge) at our club breakfast meeting.

Suzette is a Senior Clinical Trial Coordinator (problems with pregnancy trials) and is employed by the University of Adelaide but works at either the Women's and Children's or Lyell McEwen Hospitals.

So endeth the lesson on Suzette's professional life, but she will address this on another day.

Her address started with a warning that the overheads may contain nudity, but after the Olympics what did it matter. Naturally any nudity started and ended with baby photos.

Suzette entertained us with stories from childhood, education, meeting spouse Ian, through to marriage and children. In between the Coats managed to fit in overseas work and travel, sightseeing in the Cotswolds, London, Europe and the Middle East.

Ian's work took them to Alice Springs, which may have whetted their appetite for outback adventure. The Coats like to get their feet wet, with sailing catamarans, kayaking, and runabouts and the occasional swim with the whale sharks. The Coats (with three children) first met the Davis's at Kindergym. Always involved with the community, Suzette served as organiser for many years on the Rostrevor College Spring Fair.

If you thought that digging in the dirt just was limited to Suzette's gardening, then extend that interest to digging for animal fossils and squeezing thought narrow passages while caving (when she was younger).

Well done Suzette on a most entertaining address.

RCMS AWARDED A ROTARY CITATION FOR 2023-2024

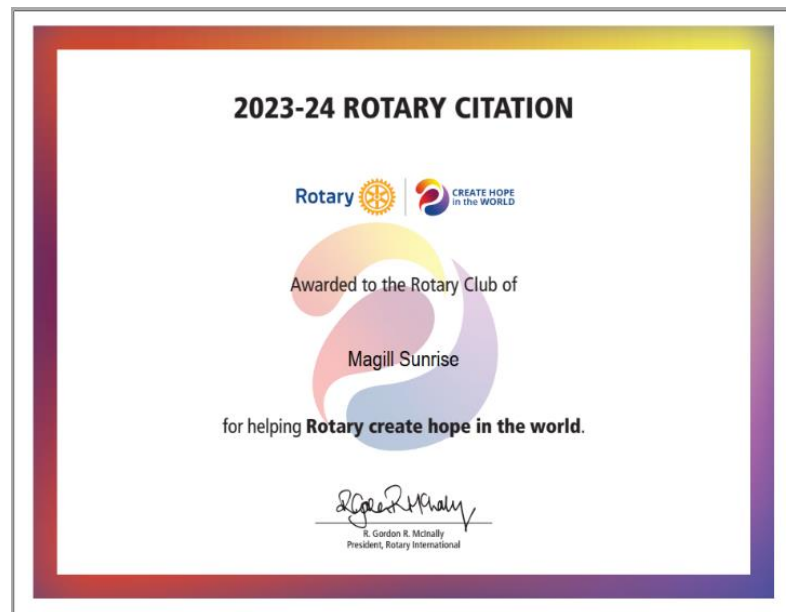

The Rotary Citation for the 2023-24 year is a prestigious recognition for Rotary clubs that achieve specific goals set by Rotary International.

To earn the citation, clubs need to set and accomplish more than half of the available goals set by Rotary. These goals are aligned with Rotary's priorities, such as increasing impact, expanding reach, enhancing participant engagement, and increasing adaptability.

Some key goals include:

- Eradicating polio and highlighting Rotary's role in this effort.
- Increasing contributions to The Rotary Foundation and building the Endowment Fund.
- Strengthening existing and developing new partnerships.
- Enhancing member engagement and reducing the number of new members leaving within their first year.
- Promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion within clubs.

QUIZ QUESTION

Recently we asked about some northern cities, so this time we look south.

Which of these major southern cities is furthest south: Hobart, Cape Town, Christchurch, Santiago (Chile), Buenos Aires (Argentina)?

ANSWER:

Christchurch, which is about 70km further south than the next one, Hobart. Surprisingly, all of the other three are actually further north than Adelaide. Only our guest speaker Suzette chose Christchurch with a few choosing Hobart and most choosing Santiago.

ICE BREAKER

Name an unusual food you have had, and would you eat it again?

Responses:

There were a variety of unusual foods. Suzette mentioned bracken fern, which is apparently commonly eaten in Canada and was reported as chewy, but good. Ann as a fairly recent migrant raised Vegemite and is not very keen. Mark told an amusing story about eating a jam sandwich in the pouring rain while on sentry duty in the Army and would definitely not recommend that. Molly has tried Witchetty Grubs and Lindsay has tried Fire Ants. Jeff tried Camel in the NT, but that taste came after having been on a Camel ride, so he was a bit put off by the whole experience. Badly prepared Tripe was also mentioned by Mark. But the winner mentioned by a few was: Durian - the very large, curious and stinky tropical fruit considered a delicacy in many Asian countries. If you can get it past your nose the taste remains for hours. Not a popular choice.

MEET THE RI PRESIDENT – STEPHANIE URCHICK

Stephanie A. Urchick, of the Rotary Club of McMurray, Pennsylvania, USA, is President of Rotary International for 2024-25.

With the world facing incredible challenges, including the COVID-19 pandemic, disasters driven by climate change, and conflict in many regions, Urchick says Rotary's leaders can offer a vision and a plan for overcoming these challenges.

"Because Rotary operates in more than 200 countries and regions, it is vital to recognise that the organisation has the potential to become more efficient and effective by understanding and reacting to how regional differences affect the way Rotarians work together to address providing service, promoting integrity, and advancing world understanding, goodwill, and peace," Urchick says.

She is partner and chief operating officer of Doctors at Work LLC, a consulting and training company and holds a doctorate in leadership studies from Indiana University of Pennsylvania. She is active on numerous community boards and committees and has been honoured by organisations including Zonta International and the Sons of the American Revolution.

A Rotary member since 1991, Stephanie Urchick has travelled to Vietnam to help build a primary school and to the Dominican Republic to install water filters. She studies several Slavic languages, has mentored new Rotarians in Ukraine, and coordinated a Rotary Foundation grant project in Poland.

She has served Rotary in many roles, including as a director, Foundation trustee, and chair of the RI Strategic Planning Committee and the Foundation's Centennial Celebration Committee. She currently serves on the Election Review Committee and the Operations Review Committee and is a Rotary Foundation Major Donor and a member of the Bequest Society.

Music has been a touchstone throughout Urchick's life. Her dad played the accordion and led a polka band, the "Harmoners", for more than 35 years. "I learned to polka before I learned to walk," she says. Urchick was a singer with her father's band and when she's in town, she sings with the Eastern Orthodox church choir directed by another of her cousins. "You know how some families get together and play cards?" she asks. "My father was a musician. My grandmother, my aunts, they were all singers. So, when we got together, we sang."

Urchick grew up in western Pennsylvania, near the border of West Virginia, a countryside of forests and farms in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains. Both her maternal and paternal grandparents moved here from Eastern Europe (Poland, Slovakia, and Ukraine), settling down to take advantage of the jobs in the region's coal mines and steel mills. When she arrived in the United States, her mother knew one sentence: "Give me some potatoes."

As a child she devoured Nancy Drew mystery novels and dreamed of being a spy. "I was in this little place in Pennsylvania, and I really had never gone anywhere," she says. "I wanted to see the world." When she went to college, she channelled that desire into a major in international relations, with its focuses on history, political science, and languages. She studied Russian, Polish, Serbian, and Italian, on top of the French she'd learned in high school.

Given Urchick's background in international relations, her interest in peace as another of her priorities as president likely comes as no surprise. She encourages living The Four-Way Test, investing in a positive club culture, and engaging with Rotary Peace Centres as ways members can help spread the message of Rotary's commitment to peace. "We're not going to get a Nobel Peace Prize for stopping a war," Urchick says, "but we can use what we have in Rotary to make the world a better place."

PRESIDENT'S "DID YOU KNOW?"

OLYMPIC GOLD MEDALS AREN'T GOLD

The so-called "gold" medals that lucky athletes receive for coming first in their events may look gold, but they are mostly silver.

According to rules set by the IOC, gold medals must be plated with at least 6g of pure gold. Solid gold medals have not been used since 1912 at the Stockholm Olympics.
